Updating our online contacts

We have likely had your contact/email details on our list for some time now.

We regard you as a regular and trusted online contact: we now wish to share with you some significant and sensitive information. It is available FREE OF CHARGE (well, for the cost of a second-class postage stamp) to people of sound judgment and good standing - we hope you fit the profile!

Print out this little slip of paper and send your contact details - by SNAIL-MAIL ONLY please, (you know, in an envelope with a postage stamp), to the address at the foot of this note.

I and my wife, Angela, we're in our 80s, you'll get no deception or trickery from us. Our only aim here is to improve - to heal - our crippled society. My personal affidavit is available if you need a copy. This information is available to you in honour, without frivolity and with clean hands

Thank you. :grant andrew:
